Let's Start!

Have we remembered everything?

Learning Outcome:

Accurately use important information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- Do you pay attention to details? Why or why not?
- What kind of last minute details do you need to review before an important event?

Can Do Statements:

- I can talk about experiences I have or haven't had.
- I can deal with a communication breakdown.
- I can talk about jobs and work.

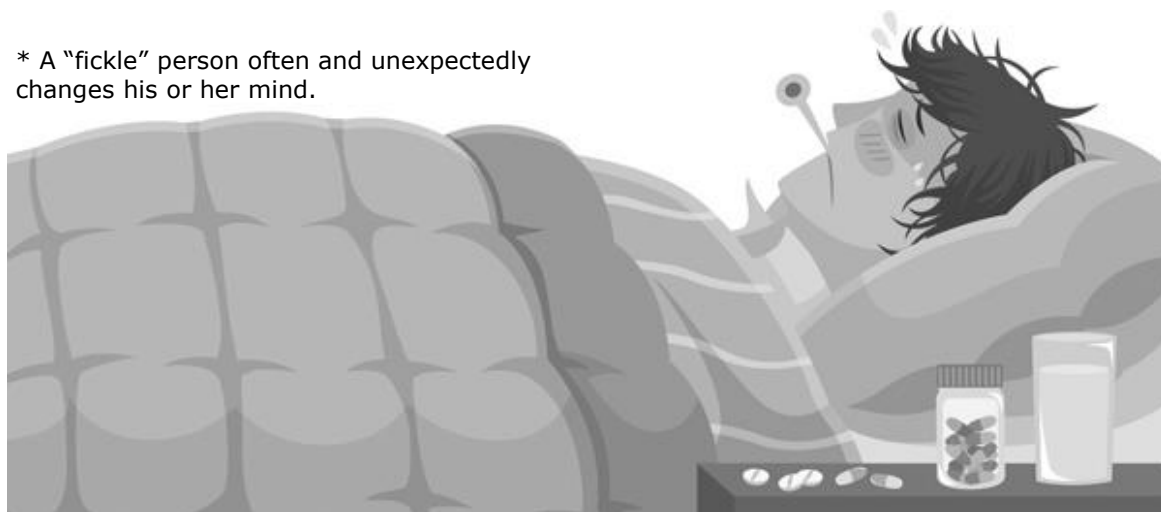

Let's Explore!

It's hard to count on someone who's fickle*!

* A "fickle" person often and unexpectedly changes his or her mind.

Instructions: Read the dialogue aloud.

- Miranda: I think we've gotten everything in place. You're feeling comfortable with our plans, aren't you?
- Peter: No, our MC has cancelled at the last minute due to illness. He's struggled with his health before.
- Miranda: Do you mean Tony's been ill for some time? That explains why his schedule has been so free.
- Peter: Are you saying he's indicated to you that his schedule was free? I guess he was hopeful.
- Miranda: Well, we need a backup plan. Ever since Ferdinand's mentioned the simultaneous broadcast in Sao Paulo, I've been thinking of Ricardo Verde.
- Peter: You mean the old guy, or his son?
- Miranda: Oh, his son would never do. He's always been fickle. He's the type who could forget to show up for an event and ask for payment.
- Peter: Well, they both have charisma and are great with an audience. Does that mean you have planned to contact him or should I?
- Miranda: Leave it to me. I'll touch base with him. I've had a few dealings with him in the past. Or did you want the opportunity to meet him?
- Peter: Oh, I'll get a good view of him at the event. I know he'd do a first-rate job at the party if he agrees, but I think I'd enjoy him better at a distance.

Let's Practice!

What do you mean to say?

Instructions: Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. Does that mean you have planned to contact him or should I?
2. Are you saying he's indicated to you that his schedule was free?
3. You mean the old guy or his son?
4. Or did you want the opportunity to meet him?
5. Do you mean Tony's been ill for some time?

Let's Practice!

Have we gone through* the final details?

*"To go through" means to examine something carefully.

Instructions: Proofread the sentence. Cross out the incorrect word(s). Rewrite the sentences correcting the mistakes. Use capital letters where necessary.

1. I think we' d got everything in place.
2. He' d struggle with his health before.
3. I' m have a few dealings with him before.
4. He's always be fickle
5. He's cancelling his appearance.

Extension Activity

Role-play confirming and clarifying details for a party.

Instructions: Complete the following steps.

Fill in the Self-Assessment.

You and your partner are going to role play a situation. One will be student A and the other will be student B. Read your cards and prepare for the activity.

ROLE-PLAY

Student A

You are in charge of organizing an office party. Look at the list below and make sure you tell your party assistant what has been confirmed. Ask for clarification on the things you are not sure.

Time: 6 pm. (confirmed)

MC: Mark Ronson (confirmed)

Location: Cafeteria (2nd floor) or Party Room (3rd floor)

Music: DJ or Mariachi band (not sure)

Food: Japanese or Chinese (not sure)

Student B

Your friend is in charge of organizing an office party. You are his assistant. He/She has confirmed a few details. He/She will ask for confirmation on the following.

Location: Party Room (3rd floor)

Music: DJ

Food: Chinese

Learning Points

Present Perfect

The Present Perfect is a combination of the present tense and the perfect aspect. It is used to express a past event that has present consequences.

We use the Present Perfect to:

- Talk about finished actions with a result in the present He's cancelled his appearance. (He's not coming.)
We've gotten everything ready for the event. (You can see now that it's all done.)
- Talk about an action when the time is not important
I've had to deal with him before.
He's suggested that he was available.
- Talk about a single or repeated action in the past.
He's struggled with his health before.

Learning Points

Asking for Clarification

Sometimes you don't understand what was said or something was not clear to you. It is, therefore, important to express your lack of understanding and seek clarification from the person you are talking to. Here are some ways you can ask for clarification.

- a) Use a tag question
You're feeling good about this plan, aren't you?
- b) Use the phrases "do you mean ... ", "are you saying ...", "Does that mean ... " "Or did you ... " and the information you need clarification on.
Do you mean he's not going to be our master of ceremony?
Does that mean we'll need to find someone else?
You mean he can't be our MC?
- c) Use the informal phrase "You mean ... ".
You mean he cancelled his participation in the event?
